Maintenance of Certification

2017-2021

Aerospace Medicine, Occupational Medicine, Public Health and General Preventive Medicine

Participation in Maintenance of Certification (MOC) allows physicians to be recognized for their commitment to lifelong learning, continuous practice improvement, and patient safety throughout the span of their careers.

The ABPM MOC program complies with the American Board of Medical Specialties' Standards for MOC and is subject to change in order to meet those standards.

TO RECERTIFY IN 2017-2021

Part I:
Professionalism &
Professional Standing

Part II:
Lifelong Learning &

(LLSA)

Earn a total of 250 Continuing Medical Education (CME) credits over the ten-year span of certification, including a minimum of 100 ABPM-approved LLSA credits.

Completion of MOC Part II requirements of another ABMS Member Board may count as 150 CME credits towards ABPM MOC Part II requirements, so that only 100 LLSA credits need to be completed.

Part III:
Assessment of & Skills

Take the MOC exam in the last three years of your certification cycle.

You may re-take the test if necessary to pass it prior to the expiration of your certificate.

Part IV:

Medical Practice
(IMP)

Complete ONE IMP activity prior to the end of your ten-year certification cycle.

One IMP activity completed for Part IV requirements of another ABMS Member Board may be counted towards ABPM MOC Part IV.
